

The Archbishop of Canterbury will be in Bose

The Archbishop Rowan Williams

Sunday, 16 September 2012

On the occasion of the tenth anniversary of the ministry of Archbishop Rowan Williams as Primate of the Anglican Communion and of the fraternal friendship that bind our monastic community to him

On the occasion of the tenth anniversary of the ministry of Archbishop Rowan Williams as Primate of the Anglican Communion and of the fraternal friendship that bind our monastic community to him, we announce with joy that the Archbishop of Canterbury will be in Bose on Sunday, 16 September 2012, for a day of reflection and of thanksgiving to the Lord.

It will be a precious occasion to demonstrate the gratitude and affection we feel for the Archbishop, as his ministry as Archbishop and Primate draws to a close.
